A Patroness' Pearls of Wisdom

My precious daughter, it is hard to believe that this time is really here

When we began this journey called NCL in a long past year

I never knew that by calling you a Ticktocker it also meant

That our time together was passing too and quickly would be spent

Now here you stand in front of me ready for graduation day

And I still have so much I really want to say

So before you move on to the next chapter in your life my dear

Here is a strand of pearls with a message I pray you will always hold near

Each pearl represents a gift that you have within yourself to give

And also teaches important NCL lessons on how to live

Pearls remind you that you are a rare jewel that sparkles and shines

By serving others, you bring light to a world that may seem very dark at times

Pearls are white for your sweet innocence and purity of heart

In a society where traditional values are sometimes lost, you will stand apart

You have faith and courage that will never quit

You bring kindness and hope and willingness to commit

Pearls are solid like your character, integrity and insight

You possess the wisdom within you to always do what is right

Pearls are lovely and display such simple grace

Just as your beauty and humility reflect in the smile on your face

Pearls are round so that you will let hard times and pettiness roll off your back

You are strong enough to rise above if someone hurts you by the way they act

Each pearl is different and unique just like individual people really are

Your special qualities can make a positive difference in our world near and far

Finally, a string of pearls is linked close together just as we are all connected to one another

There will be times in your life that you will take the lead and times when you will follow like every other

The pearls represent the circle of life

Embrace the challenges, even the strife

For happiness is a journey not a destination

Always let your dreams be your inspiration

Most importantly these pearls will wrap around your neck and stay

Just as my love wraps around you always no matter where you go each and every day.

Julie Fry Leadership Award

Julie Fry held a number of leadership positions in the DFW Metroport Chapter, including President and Vice President of Ways and Means. She led by example with humility and humor.

We lost Julie to Leukemia in December 2009. She left behind her true love, Matt, daughter Julianna, son and daughter-in-law, William and Nikki and grandchildren Abigail and William. Julie grew up in Dallas and graduated with a degree in accounting from Texas Tech University. She focused on her family and served as COO at Salmon Sims Thomas in Dallas.

With this award, we honor Julie's commitment to volunteerism and leadership by recognizing a member who goes above and beyond for our chapter and community.
